BEFORE YOU BUY ANYWHERE

5 things to check on every Houston home

These are the checks I run on every property, for myself and for clients. They matter more than the paint color.

1

Flood risk

Look up the FEMA flood zone, ask about flood history, and read the Seller's Disclosure (Texas sellers must disclose known flooding). Get a flood insurance quote, even if it isn't required.

2

Total tax rate

Houston-area property taxes often total 2–3% of value per year once you add county, city, school district, and any MUD or PID taxes. Compare total rates, not just prices.

3

School boundaries

Boundaries change and can vary street by street. Always confirm a home's assigned schools directly with the school district.

4

Insurance & HOA

Get real homeowner's insurance quotes early. Wind, hail, and flood exposure vary a lot by location. Review HOA dues and deed restrictions too, especially if you might rent the home later.

5

The big-ticket items

Roof, foundation, HVAC, plumbing, and drainage. As someone who renovates homes, I'll help you judge what's routine and what's expensive during your option period.

★

Want a second opinion?

Text me any listing and I'll tell you what I'd check, what it might really cost, and what I think it's worth. No pressure, no obligation.

Houston Heights

Historic bungalows, walkable streets, and some of Houston's best restaurants, minutes from Downtown.

Overview

The Heights is one of Houston's oldest planned neighborhoods and still one of its most in-demand. Expect a mix of restored early-1900s bungalows, Victorian homes, and newer townhomes, all inside the 610 Loop and close to Downtown.

Lifestyle

Tree-lined streets, local boutiques on 19th Street, the Heights Hike & Bike Trail, and a long list of restaurants and patios make this one of the most walkable areas in the city.

Investor's take

Values here are driven by location and lot size. Renovation potential can be big, but historic district guidelines and older-home systems (foundation, plumbing, electrical) need to be budgeted carefully. I can help you estimate what a project will really cost.

Schools

The Heights is served primarily by Houston ISD. Boundaries vary by street, so verify assignments directly with the district.

AT A GLANCE

MY NOTES ON HOUSTON HEIGHTS

02 / 10

Katy

Master-planned communities, newer construction, and easy I-10 and Grand Parkway access on Houston's west side.

Overview

Katy has grown from a small town into one of the most popular suburbs in Greater Houston, with master-planned communities like Cinco Ranch, Cross Creek Ranch, Elyson, and many more.

Lifestyle

Community amenities (pools, trails, lakes, clubhouses) are a big draw, along with quick access to the Energy Corridor and west Houston via I-10.

Investor's take

Newer homes mean fewer surprise repairs, which helps rental cash flow. But total tax rates (including MUDs) can be high, so we'll compare the full tax picture, not just purchase price.

Schools

Most of the area is served by Katy ISD, with some neighborhoods in other districts. Always verify school assignments directly with the district.

AT A GLANCE

Getting around

Cypress

Northwest Houston suburb known for master-planned communities, newer homes, and access to US-290 and the Grand Parkway.

Lifestyle

Popular communities like Bridgeland and Towne Lake feature lakes, trails, and resort-style amenities, with improving commutes thanks to the expanded US-290.

Investor's take

Older Cypress subdivisions can offer solid rental numbers at lower price points. Newer areas tend to have higher MUD taxes, so the numbers need careful review.
